

CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTION TO ACCOUNTING AND BUSINESS

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. Some users of accounting information include managers, employees, creditors, customers, investors, and the government.
2. The role of accounting is to provide information for managers to use in operating the business. In addition, accounting provides information to others to use in assessing the economic performance and condition of the business.
3. The corporate form allows the company to obtain large amounts of resources by issuing stock. For this reason, most companies that require large investments in property, plant, and equipment are organized as corporations.
4. No. The business entity concept limits the recording of economic data to transactions directly affecting the activities of the business. The payment of the interest of $3,200 is a personal transaction of Murray Stoltz and should not be recorded by Ontime Delivery Service.
5. The land should be recorded at its cost of $82,000 to A2Z Repair Service. This is consistent with the cost concept.
 - a. No. The offer of $1,000,000 and the increase in the assessed value should not be recognized in the accounting records.
 - b. Cash would increase by $1,000,000, land would decrease by $525,000, and owner's equity would increase by $475,000.
7. An account receivable is a claim against a customer for goods or services sold. An account payable is an amount owed to a creditor for goods or services purchased. Therefore, an account receivable in the records of the seller is an account payable in the records of the purchaser.
8. (a) The business incurred a net loss of $185,000 ($615,000 – $430,000).
9. (b) The business realized net income of $117,000 ($825,000 – $708,000).
10. Net income or net loss
Retained earnings at the end of the period
Cash at the end of the period

As in many ethics issues, there is no one right answer. Often times, disclosing only what is legally required may not be enough. In this case, it would be best for the company's chief executive officer to disclose both reports to the county representatives. In doing so, the chief executive officer could point out any flaws or deficiencies in the fired researcher's report.

- 1. All financial statements should contain the name of the business in their heading. The retained earnings statement is incorrectly headed as “Bertram Mitchell” rather than Empire Realty. The heading of the balance sheet needs the name of the business.
- 2. The income statement and retained earnings statement cover a period of time and should be labeled “For the Month Ended May 31, 2012.”
- 3. The year in the heading for the retained earnings statement should be 2012 rather than 2011.
- 4. The balance sheet should be labeled “May 31, 2012,” rather than “For the Month Ended May 31, 2012.”
- 5. In the income statement, the miscellaneous expense amount should be listed as the last expense.
- 6. In the income statement, the total expenses are incorrectly subtracted from the sales commissions, resulting in an incorrect net income amount. The correct net income should be $22,050. This also affects the retained earnings statement and the amount of retained earnings that appears on the balance sheet.
- 7. In the retained earnings statement, the additional issuance of capital stock should not be added to retained earnings, as of May 1, 2012. The net income should be presented after the beginning retained earnings as of May 1, 2012, followed by the amount of dividends, which is subtracted from the net income to yield a net increase in retained earnings.
- 8. Accounts payable should be listed as a liability on the balance sheet.
- 9. Accounts receivable and supplies should be listed as assets on the balance sheet.
- 10. The balance sheet assets should equal the sum of the liabilities and stockholders’ equity.

- a. 2009: $18,055 ($$32,686 - $14,631$)
2008: $16,098 ($$30,869 - $14,771$)
- b. 2009: 0.81 ($$14,631 \div $18,055$)
2008: 0.92 ($$14,771 \div $16,098$)
- c. The margin of safety for creditors has increased slightly from 2008 to 2009. In both years, creditors have less at stake in Lowe's than do stockholders, since the ratio is less than 1.
- d. Lowe's ratio of liabilities to stockholders' equity is less than 1. In comparison, The Home Depot's ratio of liabilities to stockholders' equity is greater than 1 for 2009 and 2008. Thus, the creditors of The Home Depot are more at risk than are the creditors of Lowe's.

- Stockholders' equity is the right of stockholders (owners) to the assets of the business. These rights are increased by stockholders' investments and revenues and decreased by dividends and expenses.
- $4,600 ($11,000 – $2,700 – $1,900 – $900 – $600 – $300)
- September's transactions increased retained earnings by $2,800 ($4,600 – $1,800), which is the excess of September's net income of $4,600 over dividends of $1,800.

CASES & PROJECTS

CP 1–1

- 1. Acceptable professional conduct requires that Vince Hunt supply First National Bank with all the relevant financial statements necessary for the bank to make an informed decision. Therefore, Vince should provide the complete set of financial statements. These can be supplemented with a discussion of the net loss in the past year or other data explaining why granting the loan is a good investment by the bank.
- 2. a. Owners are generally willing to provide bankers with information about the operating and financial condition of the business, such as the following:
 - Operating Information:
 - Description of business operations
 - Results of past operations
 - Preliminary results of current operations
 - Plans for future operations
 - Financial Condition:
 - List of assets and liabilities (balance sheet)
 - Estimated current values of assets
 - Owner's personal investment in the business
 - Owner's commitment to invest additional funds in the business

Owners are normally reluctant to provide the following types of information to bankers:

- Proprietary Operating Information. Such information, which might hurt the business if it becomes known by competitors, might include special processes used by the business or future plans to expand operations into areas that are not currently served by a competitor.
- Personal Financial Information. Owners may have little choice here because banks often require owners of small businesses to pledge their personal assets as security for a business loan. Personal financial information requested by bankers often includes the owner's net worth, salary, and other income. In addition, bankers usually request information about factors that might affect the personal financial condition of the owner. For example, a pending divorce by the owner might significantly affect the owner's personal wealth.

CP 1–1 (Concluded)

- b. Bankers typically want as much information as possible about the ability of the business and the owner to repay the loan with interest. Examples of such information are described above.
- c. Both bankers and business owners share the common interest of the business doing well and being successful. If the business is successful, the bankers will receive their loan payments on time with interest, and the owners will increase their personal wealth.

CP 1–2

The difference in the two bank balances, $50,000 ($90,000 – $40,000), may not be pure profit from an accounting perspective. To determine the accounting profit for the six-month period, the revenues for the period would need to be matched with the related expenses. The revenues minus the expenses would indicate whether the business generated net income (profit) or a net loss for the period. Using only the difference between the two bank account balances ignores such factors as amounts due from customers (receivables), liabilities (accounts payable) that need to be paid for wages or other operating expenses, additional investments that Dr. Dewitt may have made in the business during the period, or dividends paid during the period.

Some businesses that have few, if any, receivables or payables may use a “cash” basis of accounting. The cash basis of accounting ignores receivables and payables because they are assumed to be insignificant in amount. However, even with the cash basis of accounting, additional investments during the period and dividends paid during the period have to be considered in determining the net income (profit) or net loss for the period.

5. a. Topspin would provide Jan with $625 more income per month than working as a waitress. This amount is computed as follows:

Net income of Topspin, per month	$1,705
Earnings as waitress, per month:
30 hours per week × $9 per hour × 4 weeks	1,080
Difference.....	$ 625

- b. Other factors that Jan should consider before discussing a long-term arrangement with the Naples Tennis Club include the following:

Jan should consider whether the results of operations for April are indicative of what to expect each month. For example, Jan should consider whether club members will continue to request lessons or use the ball machine during the fall months when interest in tennis may slacken. Jan should evaluate whether the additional income of $625 per month from Topspin is worth the risk being taken and the effort being expended.

Jan should also consider how much her investment in Topspin could have earned if invested elsewhere. For example, if the initial investment of $1,000 had been deposited in a money market account at 4% interest, it would have earned $3.33 interest in April, or $40 for the year.

Note to Instructors: Numerous other considerations could be mentioned by students, such as the ability of Jan to withdraw cash from Topspin for personal use. Unlike a money market account or savings account, some of her investment in Topspin will be in the form of supplies (tennis balls, etc.), which may not be readily convertible to cash. The objective of this case is not to mention all possible considerations, but rather to encourage students to begin thinking about the use of accounting information in making business decisions.

Note to Instructors: The purpose of this activity is to familiarize students with the certification requirements and their online availability. You might use this as an opportunity to discuss the advantages and disadvantages of careers in public accounting (CPA), management accounting (CMA), and internal auditing (CIA).

The following Web sites provide useful information (such as starting salaries, etc.) for students on careers in accounting:

	First Year	Second Year	Third Year
Net cash flows from operating activities	negative	positive	positive
Net cash flows from investing activities	negative	negative	negative
Net cash flows from financing activities	positive	positive	positive

Start-up companies normally experience negative cash flows from operating and investing activities. Also, start-up companies normally have positive cash flows from financing activities—activities from raising capital.

CP 1–6

As can be seen from the balance sheet data in the case, Enron was financed largely by debt as compared to equity. Specifically, Enron's stockholders' equity represented only 17.5% ($11,470 divided by $65,503) of Enron's total assets. The remainder of Enron's total assets, 82.5%, was financed by debt. When a company is financed largely by debt, it is said to be highly leveraged.

In late 2001 and early 2002, allegations arose as to possible misstatements of Enron's financial statements. These allegations revolved around the use of "special purpose entities" (partnerships) and related party transactions. The use of special purpose entities allowed Enron to hide a significant amount of additional debt off its balance sheet. The result was that Enron's total assets were even more financed by debt than the balance sheet indicated.

After the allegations of misstatements became public, Enron's stock rapidly declined and the company filed for bankruptcy. Subsequently, numerous lawsuits were filed against the company and its management. In addition, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Justice Department, and Congress launched investigations into Enron. As a result, several of Enron's top executives faced criminal prosecution and were sentenced to prison.

Note to Instructors: The role of the auditors and board of directors of Enron might also be discussed. Note, however, that these topics are not covered in Chapter 1 but in later chapters.
