76. Nile Inc. is one of the leading shoe manufacturing companies in Baltoni. It manufactures canvas shoes that are quite similar to those produced by other brands. The management of the company has decided to adopt a product/service differentiation competitive strategy. What is Nile Inc. likely to do in this scenario?

- a. Offer their products at discounted rates and make the cost of their products lower than those of their competitors.
- b. Produce aerobic, tennis, and baseball shoes that have specialized features.
- c. Advertise their products through more media outlets than it previously did.
- d. Start selling products to markets outside Baltonia.

ANSWER: b

 - a. It tends to be more attractive to top managers because of its durability.
 - b. It provides a shorter-lasting competitive advantage compared to cost competitive advantages.
 - c. It focuses primarily on offering a low priced product or service than that of the competitor.
 - d. It is subject to continual erosion, as opposed to cost competitive advantages.

ANSWER:

RATIONALE: The durability of a product/service differentiation competitive strategy tends to make it more

On the company's Web site, the following content is highlighted: "The aim of our business is to achieve profitability by offering our customers high quality products that are manufactured in a cost effective manner. Our goals are to provide value to our customers, serve the community, and preserve the environment." This content is most likely to be Delta's:
 - a. article of incorporation
 - b. financial statement
 - c. bona fide occupational qualification
 - d. mission statement

ANSWER: d

RATIONALE: Delta Corp. has highlighted its mission statement on its company Web site. The foundation of any marketing plan is the firm's mission statement, which answers the question "What business are we in?" The way a firm defines its business mission profoundly affects the firm's long-run resource allocation, profitability, and survival. See 2-4: Defining the Business

104. Discuss how strategic planning can be made effective.

ANSWER: Effective strategic planning requires continual attention, creativity, and management commitment. Strategic planning should not be an annual exercise in which, managers go through the motions and forget about strategic planning until the next year. It should be an ongoing process because the environment is continually changing and the firm's resources and capabilities are continually evolving. Sound strategic planning is based on creativity. Managers should challenge assumptions about the firm and the environment and establish new strategies.

ANSWER: A product development strategy entails the creation of new products for present markets. In January 2014, Beats Electronics launched Beats Music— a subscription-based streaming music service that offers advanced personalization systems and forward-thinking family sharing plans. Beats hopes this service's novel features, sleek design, and celebrity endorsements will catapult it to the front of the music streaming pack, which is currently fronted by competitors such as Spotify and Rdio.

106. Discuss the process of market opportunity analysis.

ANSWER: The target market strategy identifies the market segment or segments on which a firm should focus. This process begins with a market opportunity analysis (MOA)—the description and estimation of the size and sales potential of market segments that are of interest to the firm, and the assessment of key competitors in these market segments. After the firm describes the market segments, it may target one or more of them.

107. Discuss the factors that make marketing objectives effective.

ANSWER: A marketing objective is a statement of what is to be accomplished through marketing activities. To be useful, stated objectives should be:Realistic: Managers should develop objectives that have a chance of being met. For example, it may be unrealistic for start-up firms or new products to command dominant market share, given other competitors in the marketplace. Measurable: Managers need to be able to quantitatively measure whether or not an objective has been met. For example, it would be difficult to determine success for an objective that states, "To increase sales of cat food." If the company sells one percent more cat food, does that mean the objective was met? Instead, a specific number should be stated, "To increase sales of Purina brand cat food from $300 million to $345 million."Time specific: By what time should the objective be met? "To increase sales of Purina brand cat food between January 1, 2014, and December 31, 2014."Compared to a benchmark: If the objective is to increase sales by 15 percent, it is important to know the baseline against which the objective will be measured. Will it be current sales? Last year's sales? For example, "To increase sales of Purina brand cat food by 15 percent over 2012 sales of $300 million."

ANSWER: The term marketing mix refers to a unique blend of product, place (distribution), promotion, component of the marketing mix, but the strategies for all four components must be blended to achieve optimal results.

109. Discuss the general strategies for selecting target markets.

ANSWER: Target markets can be selected by appealing to the entire market with one marketing mix, concentrating on one segment, or appealing to multiple market segments using multiple marketing mixes. Target markets could be eighteen- to twenty-five-year-old females who are interested in fashion (Vogue magazine), people concerned about sugar and calories in their soft drinks (Diet Pepsi), or parents who do not have time to potty train their children (Booty Camp classes where kids are potty trained). Any market segment that is targeted must be fully described. Demographics, psychographics, and buyer behavior should be assessed.

ANSWER: Promotion includes advertising, public relations, sales promotion, and personal selling.

Promotion's role in the marketing mix is to bring about mutually satisfying exchanges with target markets by informing, educating, persuading, and reminding them of the benefits of an organization or a product. A good promotion strategy, like using a beloved cartoon character such as Sponge-Bob Square Pants to sell gummy snacks, can dramatically increase sales.
